Rest stop reading from Swarthmore College Libraries • May 13th, 2007

It's almost vacation time

You can keep researching all summer!!

If you're not graduating yet, you can access Swarthmore Library's electronic resources from any networked computer. You should be prompted to login to the proxy server when you visit the Subject Portal from off-campus. Choose Swarthmore, then use your email username and password. Continue clicking through to your favorite resources. In September, everyone will be jealous of all the work you have already done on your thesis!

Summer due date

Take any Swarthmore, Haverford, or Bryn Mawr stack book home with you all summer. Ask for the summer due date at the circulation desk and you can keep the books until September 7th – that's the end of the first week of classes.

Fluctuating hours through May

McCabe, Cornell, and Underhill have expanded late-night hours through the end of exams. McCabe will continue later hours through honors exams, as well. Check the website or circulation desk for specifics.

Underhill will be closed this summer for renovation, beginning Friday, May 25th, at 4 p.m. Please ask for help at McCabe if you need music-related items over the summer. We can always use TriCo and ILL.
